

---

PROJECT REBIRTH

---

April 13, 2010

Dear friends and supporters,

“After collaborating with Columbia and Georgetown Universities for several years to develop pilot educational and therapeutic programs to launch the Project Rebirth Center, 2010 will see the first results of our efforts to deliver teaching and learning tools that will help first responders be better prepared for mass disasters.

I am very grateful to Frank Moretti and Randy Bass and their respective teams at the Columbia Center for New Media Teaching and Learning, and GU’s Center for New Designs in Learning and Scholarship, for working so closely with me to conceptualize and develop the concepts that are driving the creation of the Project Rebirth Center”

- Brian Rafferty, Chairman, Project Rebirth.

Click here to read the article on Project Rebirth in the Downtown Express:

Join the conversation:

www.twitter.com/ProjectRebirth

Support the cause:

www.facebook.com/ProjectRebirth

Project Rebirth, Inc. is a registered 501c3.

163 William Street
New York, NY 10038
212-346-1482
www.projectrebirth.org